DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

In response to the amendment filed September 3, 2003 in which the applicant has cancels claims 2-7 and claim 1 is pending in this application.

Drawings

1. The drawings were received on September 3, 2003. These drawings are acceptable.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claim 1 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,568,683. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1-4 of the U.S. Patent No. 6,568,683 "anticipate" application serial number 10/031,776 of claim 1. Accordingly, the application of claim 1 are/is not patentably distinct from U.S. Patent No. 6,568,683 of claims 1-4. Here, U.S. Patent No. 6,568,683 of claims 1-4 requires elements a grid of grid points on a flat surface, a game manager made of a CPU and memory which manages two or more games with a set of basic rules while the application, and the game manager checks for each point the illumination state of the point and of a pattern of points around to insure appropriate movement of a player while the application of claim 1 only requires elements a grid of grid points on a flat surface, a game manager made of a CPU and memory which manages one or more games with a set of rules, and the game manager checks to evaluate the legal moves of a player by pre-defined set of imaginary straight lines. Thus it is apparent that the more specific U.S. Patent No. 6,568,683 of claims 1-4 encompasses the application of claim 1. Following the rationale in In re Goodman cited in the preceding paragraph, where applicant has once been granted a patent containing a claim for the specific or narrower invention, applicant may not then obtain a second patent with a claim for the generic or broader invention without first submitting an appropriate terminal disclaimer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Golad '441.
6. Golad discloses an apparatus for a game having a grid of grid points on a flat surface having each grid point being a visible element which is capable of detecting when it is pressed, two different colors allocated to represent players, a CPU, memory, a computer program executed by the CPU, and a game manager evaluating legal moves by each player by checking in turn each of a pre-defined set of imaginary straight lines emanating from the point to evaluate a correct and incorrect move, in which the examiner interprets to be in the computer informing a player on a incorrect move by flashing the correct playing areas on the grid point in straight lines, which is equivalent to applicant's game manager evaluating legal or illegal moves by a player (column 3, line 54 – column 4, line 9).

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed September 3, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant's arguments fail to comply with 37 CFR 1.111(b) because they amount to a general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
